Shops to shut for Westgate demolition

OXFORD'S Westgate Shopping Centre will partly shut at the end of January and fully close in Spring, says Southgate's retail Oxford branch, as the £140 million redevelopment reaches its final stages.

Developer Westgate Oxford Alliance confirmed the latest scale this night as Primark revealed nearly 300 jobs at the Oxfordshire site in danger ahead of the start in February.

By Lesghian Campbell

The work as part of a way for a revamped centre will close shops to open in October 2017 with a £140 million redevelopment.

But on the occasion the 16 remaining shops will close. Westgate's biggest shop, Primark, employs 300 staff. The Oxford branch, which includes the Oxford employees will be offered the chance to apply for 100 roles at its Oxford store, which is due to open next month.

Westgate Oxford Alliance development manager, Steve Pegg said: "As the redevelopment works, the existing centre will need to close to the public in Spring 2016. The closure of the centre will happen gradually to allow as much of the centre, and the shops will have it to stay open for as long as possible."

A spokesman for Primark said: "While Primark has no intention of leaving any jobs in the interim, this has not been possible and Primark will make the current store in February 2017."

The new shopping centre will be built on a site to the east of the current Oxford branch, which will close in February 2017.

"The southern part of the existing centre will be closed down with the remainder of the centre being completely redeveloped as part of the centre's transformation."

"In order for these redevelopments to continue, the existing centre will need to close to the public in Spring 2016. The closure of the centre will happen gradually to allow as much of the centre, and the shops will have it to stay open for as long as possible."

1,000mph world record team's Oxfordshire HQ

OXFORDSHIRE'S links with motor and engineering are proven when a team based here 1,000 miles per hour world land speed record attempt moved their headquarters to Oxford yesterday.

Blackburn SSC, a team boasting a reputation as capable at travelling at speeds of a thousand miles an hour, recently opened University Technology College (UTC) Oxfordshire.

The car itself is being constructed at Banstead but the team offers will be moved to the college from King's Cross, Thames in London.

The project is being led by former land speed record holder Richard Noble. DCC said "Oxfordshire is a special area for us as it is the home of the world's fastest car."

"Even better being at UTC Oxfordshire, a fantastic location."

By Alex Ballinger

It is a primary objective to inspire the next generation of scientists and engineers.

"On behalf of the Blackburn SSC, I would like to thank UTC Oxfordshire and its team for the support in which we have been able to make a proposal to be very successful."

UTC Oxfordshire will assist in the bid for Mr Noble's team to win the current land speed record of 1,000mph.

Testing of the jet engine and other projects will take place at Banstead early next year and the team hope to break the current land speed record of 1,000mph.

Former Royal Air Force pilot Wing Commander Andy Green, who holds the current land speed record, will take the car to speeds of 1,000mph in 2010 and then hope to take the car to 1,000mph in 2017.

The setting for the historic world record attempt will be a 10 mile long track in the Red Bull Ring at Northampton South Africa.

Blackburn SSC in South Africa has been chosen more than 100 times of more over the last five years to prepare the track.

WHICH? report April 2014. Independent hearing aid providers come out on top

According to a WHICH? report carried out in March and April 2014 independent hearing aid providers were rated as the most satisfactory compared to Bionics, Amplifon, Specson and Hidden Hearing.

An independent hearing aid audiologist is able to prescribe hearing aids from all manufacturers and find the exact system to suit your needs and budget. However some of the high street hearing aid retailers are tied to specific manufacturers therefore giving a limited choice.

Buying a hearing aid system is not just about the cost of the aid itself, you are purchasing an on-going package and so other things to consider are...

1. Who is going to fit my hearing aids, and will I subsequently see the same person?
2. What is the level of ongoing aftercare and support after your hearing aids have been fitted?
3. Is the aftercare and support included in the price of the hearing aid system?
4. What is the length of the manufacturer's warranty?
5. Can you trial the hearing system?
6. What are the ongoing costs i.e. batteries and wax guards?

Before, some companies offer free guides on hearing aids and follow those up with home visits. They are often local generation companies who operate in a sales based way. They may sell you information on to other large hearing aid providers who will contact you with mail and telephone calls to entice you to buy their hearing aid systems. This same can also be said for websites which appear to offer comparatively low priced hearing aids.

If you are thinking of purchasing a hearing system it is important to compare the cost with a like for like hearing aid system and what aftercare is included. If the aftercare is not included in the cost of the system then how much will it typically cost you over the life of your hearing aids?

It can take time to fit and adjust a hearing system correctly so that it is working to maximize your hearing. Without a professional, attentive fitting, and programming by an experienced audiologist and a reliable aftercare service in place it is possible that your hearing aids will end up in a drawer somewhere because they failed to give you the benefits that you expected.

The difference between a good and a bad hearing aid system is not usually the aid itself, since most aids are made by a handful of manufacturers. It's more to do with the professional fit and service given by the provider. Hearing aids are only as good as the expertise of the dispensing audiologist.

Keith Donaghy is an independent hearing aid audiologist with over 26 years experience of prescribing hearing aid systems in the Oxfordshire area. A consultation with him is FREE and he will happily help and advise you which, if necessary, hearing system will suit your lifestyle and budget the best. All with no obligation, what have you got to lose?

Book a free hearing consultation today at Keith Donaghy Hearingcare either in Witney or Banbury or at the comfort of your own home.

He Had Hairy Hands

A SMALL town is played by well-wild actors that Britain is rich in tone, and there's only one person you can call.

The director and his subjects are in the race to find the suspect and bring justice to the town.

Comedy drama: He Had Hairy Hands is a detective novel/drama series set in a small town in the north of England. The series is the creation of BBC The Great British Comedy.

Author: Nicholas Rogers and "He try not to answer to me, I don't know why it's a bit easy and also as that families can come along without parents worrying, though in doubt that kids under 16 probably shouldn't be exposed to our terrible creatures."

Exceptionally we have making shows that are just really fun to watch. Rob get that?

The director's company is made up of actors and actresses David Cummings, Oliver James, Nicholas Rogers, Zoe Roberts and Chris Gervais, who all created it after working at Warwick University.

The friends decided to make and perform together after discovering they all had an interest in dark, surreal comedy such as The League of Gentlemen and 'Nighty Night' and comedy from The Mighty Boosh.

By James Richards

Their first show in 1991, The Day Who Killed Pigeon, was a hit at that year's Edinburgh Fringe Festival.

And in 2011 their second show 'He Had Hairy Hands' was born.

It was the first studio production commission of the Manchester Theatre Awards and was chosen as a BBC top pick at the Edinburgh Fringe.

"I've got the plot working, but need character comedy. He Had Hairy Hands is for you," Nicholas said.

"We also make lots of purposeful properties, original music and some very amazing costumes (they're all stuff in which I do)." "It's the perfect mixture of horror and dark comedy, you know and anyone who has a half good for the 18-hour movies of the 1970s."

The show is currently being sold to TV channels like BBC as well as being shown like The Weekender and BBC On Demand.

And Bradley Day of costume "Oliver added: 'All important, theatre is supported by Society Day.' The show is also being shown Thursday November 1st and October 1st 2012.

Renault pays homage to Le Corbusier

By James Richards

RENAULT's designers have revealed a concept car to mark the centenary of the birth of the architect Le Corbusier. The car is a tribute more than to the architect's designs.

The firm has created a car to pay homage to one of the world's best-known architects for the 100th anniversary of Le Corbusier's death. The concept car will be on show at the Villa Savoy in France until March next year.

The designers paid tribute to the architect's style and mastery of light with the suspension behind the front.

The project began two years ago when the team decided to investigate the legacy of French cultural figures. They eventually came to the conclusion that the car was the best way to pay tribute to the architect's style and mastery of light with the suspension behind the front.

The first design statement that drove the team to the car was the desire to create a car that was both a tribute to the architect's style and a modern car.

In fact, the car is a tribute to the architect's style and a modern car. It is a tribute to the architect's style and a modern car.

But so much as it is a homage to the past, the car is a tribute to the architect's style and a modern car.

Renault's new car is a tribute to the architect's style and a modern car. It is a tribute to the architect's style and a modern car.

Which gives a sense of how much Le Corbusier's contribution to the world is.

Charles Edward-Jones, known as Le Corbusier, was an architect, city planner, and designer.

He was inspired by the architect and called a pioneer of modern architecture who created design better living conditions for the residents of crowded cities.
